THEME

The theme this year is a continuation of our “Unite” series and focuses on leadership and engagement to advance the AAPI community.

Results from the 2018 Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey indicate that 68% of Federal employees government-wide felt an overall sense of engagement based on three categories: leadership, supervisor relationship, and their roles in the workplace. The Office of Personnel Management defines engagement as “An employee’s sense of purpose that is evident in their display of dedication, persistence and effort in their work or overall attachment to their organization and its mission.”

This year, FAPAC will leverage the compelling mission of public service by equipping government leaders with the necessary skills and knowledge to continue increasing employee engagement and make our communities better places to live and work. Unite Our Mission by Engaging Each Other encourages AAPI participation in civic engagement and empowers leaders at all levels.

ABOUT FAPAC

The Federal Asian Pacific American Council (FAPAC) was founded in 1985. FAPAC is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization representing the civilian and military Asian Pacific American (APA) employees in the Federal and District of Columbia governments.

FAPAC is organized exclusively for educational purposes within the meaning of Section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The primary purpose of FAPAC is to serve as an interagency association within the Federal and District of Columbia governments, providing a focus for over thirty ethnically distinct groups originating from Asian and Pacific regions as recognized by the United States Bureau of Census.

MISSION

FAPAC is an organization that promotes equal opportunity and cultural diversity for APAs within the Federal and District of Columbia governments. FAPAC encourages the participation and advancement of APAs in the government workforce.

VISION

FAPAC will be a nationally recognized organization that serves as a conduit through which the interests, issues and representation of APAs in the Federal and District of Columbia governments are addressed. It will also promote partnerships with the public and private sectors in the community it serves.
BADGES: In an effort to enhance security, we ask all attendees to please wear your badge for the duration of the conference. Badges will be required for admission to sessions and refreshment functions at the Von Braun Center (VBC). Your badge not only indicates that you are fully registered for the conference, but is also a courtesy to other registrants. If you have any issues with your name badges, please notify the Registration Office.

REGISTRATION: Registration fees exclude travel, accommodations, hotel costs, or pre-conference forums. These are separate from the main conference registration and must be purchased separately. On-site registration will be accepted with payment via credit cards.

EXHIBITION: Please take time to visit the exhibit displays in the North Hall 1 during the breaks and sessions. See the exhibitor listing for detailed information regarding our sponsors and exhibitors.

MEALS: Included in registration fees are the above listed meals. Extra meal tickets are available for sale at the Registration Office and on our website.

ATTIRE: Dress during the conference is business casual. Be sure to dress in layers and carry a sweater as the temperature in the meeting rooms is difficult to regulate, and meeting rooms may be cold or warm. In addition, see the dress code for our events in the above table.

INTERNET ACCESS: Internet access is complimentary in the guest rooms for those staying on site at the Embassy hotel. Complimentary internet access is provided for the meeting rooms at the VBC. Please use the following WIFI Code at the VBC: engage2019

LIABILITY: Neither the host venue nor the organizers can be held responsible for any personal injury, loss, damage to private property or additional expense incurred as a result of delays or changes in air, rail, sea, road or other services. All participants are encouraged to make their own arrangements for health and travel insurance.

PARKING: The Embassy Suites will offer complimentary parking for hotel guests. The VBC offers parking at P1 and P2 lots for $10/day. The city lots are P4 and P5 and their rates are $5/day.

HOTEL SHUTTLE: The Embassy Suites hotel offers a complimentary Hotel Shuttle between Embassy Suites, the Huntsville Airport, and local downtown area. Please contact the hotel for information and to schedule rides.

CONGRATULATIONS FAPAC on your 34th National Leadership Training Program
On behalf of the FAPAC National Board of Directors and the National Board of Operations, it’s my great honor and pleasure to extend our warmest welcome to you to the FAPAC’s 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program (NLTP). The yearly national leadership and training conference is FAPAC’s flagship event. Through this training and conference, we’ll practice FAPAC’s organizational values and achieve its objectives by striving to be a transformational organization for all the Asian American Pacific Islanders (AAPI).

This year’s theme is Unite our Mission by Engaging Each Other. It is through the many speakers and workshops we offer at the NLTP that we’ll learn from each other, collaborate, and prepare to go out and fulfill FAPAC’s mission: to increase awareness of the AAPI representation at all levels of the government workforce. FAPAC will leverage the compelling mission of public service by equipping government leaders with the necessary skills and knowledge to continue increasing employee engagement and make our communities better places to live and work. Unite Our Mission by Engaging Each Other encourages AAPI participation in civic engagement and empowers leaders at all levels.

I commend our past presidents--their leadership paved the way and made what FAPAC is today, with remarkable progress in its commitment to implement and use an educational-based approach to increase participation and advancement of APA managers and employees in the federal government, D.C. government, and military. Our partners with the different agencies in leadership training programs were keys in the tremendous contributions in increasing diversified and qualified APA managers in the workforce and this great country.

Also, many thanks to our many volunteers, sponsors and supporters for their continued commitment and support to FAPAC and its members, and make a huge difference in the lives of the AAPIs in the civil service and uniformed services.

Again, we welcome you to this very engaging leadership training! I hope that you will take this opportunity to network, get engaged and be inspired by the many talented, diverse attendees and speakers. Take back to your work the knowledge, skills and leadership gained from the many workshops and plenary sessions. Please accept our appreciation for your continuous support.

Warmest Regards,

Olivia F. Adrian, President

34TH NATIONAL LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM

www.fas.usda.gov
On behalf of the FAPAC Conference Committee, Officers, volunteers, and partners, we welcome you to the 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program (NLTP). This year’s theme is Unite Our Mission by Engaging Each Other. The 2019 theme intends to promote the public service ethos that drives our work as government employees and members of the uniformed services. By focusing on our unique personal and organizational missions, we can better engage our employees, workplaces, and communities and help them thrive.

Bringing the NLTP to Huntsville was an effort that was years in the making and finally started coming together for 2019. Past FAPAC President Farook Sait’s ties to Huntsville helped put the Rocket City on FAPAC’s radar as a potential venue for the NLTP. The Conference Chairs and FAPAC Officers conducted an initial site visit in February 2018. We met key partners at NASA Marshall Space Flight Center, Redstone Arsenal and the Huntsville/Madison County Convention and Visitors Bureau who showed us true Southern hospitality and made the decision to select Huntsville an easy one. The Huntsville spirit of engagement and innovation was apparent as we toured the attractions and learned of the city’s history.

We’re excited to bring FAPAC members and NLTP attendees to the Rocket City as it celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 lunar landing in 2019. While visiting NASA at Redstone Arsenal and seeing the history of America’s space and rocket program at the US Space and Rocket Center, we could see that Huntsville really embodies the 2019 theme. The American space program came together because people of diverse backgrounds were united by a common goal. That spirit of coming together is one that we should strive to achieve in our communities, workplaces, and nation.

As an all volunteer organization, FAPAC’s programs would not be possible without the dedication and support from its volunteers and partners. FAPAC volunteers are motivated by our mission to produce high quality trainings and expand the network of AAPI public servants. Our volunteers have spent countless hours of their personal time to put together this annual celebration of public service and Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage month. We truly appreciate their dedication and hard work!

We want to give special recognition to a few volunteers who went above and beyond to make the NLTP happen. Julie Kelly’s attention to detail and multi-tasking abilities ensured seamless coordination between our venue and hotel partners. The volunteers from the newly formed FAPAC STAR chapter were crucial to our on-the-ground engagement in Huntsville. We deeply appreciate the hard work of Loucious Hires, Larry Mack, Angela Newcomb, Lien Moore, Toan Vu, Ron Eng, and many more. Leslie Walker and Erica Bradford of the Huntsville/Madison County Convention and Visitors Bureau did a wonderful job showing us the best of Huntsville and connecting us with key partners to make the NLTP a success. They were actively involved in our site visits and logistics that made FAPAC’s job that much easier.

The amount of collaboration that goes into the NLTP is a true example of our theme, Unite Our Mission by Engaging Each Other. It’s our hope that each attendee learns something new, broadens their networks, and finds appreciation in our mission as public servants. Thank you for your continued support and we hope you enjoy the 34th National Leadership Training Program!

Sincerely,

Kelly L. Sewell

Highlights
- Provide Trainings and workshops on building leadership, self-development, and soft skills, retirement and financial literacy, de-stressing and health, and more.
- Sponsor USDA Activities/Programs such as AAPI Heritage Month Celebration and Ramadan (Iftar) Dinner with the Office of the Secretary.
- Collaborate with other USDA Employee Resource Groups such as OPEDA (Organization of Professional Employees of Department of Agriculture), HACE (Hispanic American Cultural Effort) and FEW (New Horizons Chapter of Federally Employed Women) to support one another to accomplish our missions.
- Work with WHI-AAPI and Departmental Management on how FAPAC-USDA can help lift barriers for AAPIs at USDA.
- Future projects: Work with the Department on Pathways (Internship) program and Mentoring Program.
In partnership with NAPA, the FAA’s employee association for Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders, the FAPAC-FAA Chapter proudly encourages the continued professional excellence of our members, promote equal opportunity and affirmative action at the FAA, and facilitate mentoring and networking opportunities to support the development of all FAA employees. Our membership includes a dozen FAPAC Life Members, many dual FAPAC/NAPA members, and more than 60 NAPA members across the country.

The chapter promotes AAPI networking and culture-sharing. We supported interagency communities of practice, family picnics, happy hours, lunch and learn, and meet and greets throughout the year. We also actively support FAPAC National by serving on the Executive Board, committees, and events. We are working to more closely engage AAPI employees at the Department of Transportation. Under the motto of “Defining Spirit. Continuing Professional Excellence.” we serve as a resource for our members and friends to advance personal and professional goals while we strive to be the recognized resource for which leadership and employees consult with on topics relevant to the AAPI experience in the FAA.

FAPAC HHS Parklawn Chapter was formally chartered in October 2017. FAPAC HHS Parklawn was founded by employees from several agencies and offices under HHS. Those agencies include Health Resources and Service Administration (HRSA), Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), and Indian Health Service (HIS), and Food and Drug Administration (FDA). FAPAC HHS Parklawn’s primary goals are providing resources for AAPI employees at Parklawn for career advancement and leadership training. The chapter also serves as a valuable communication channel between the AAPI community and Human Resources to better support the federal government, and recruit and maintain a diverse 21st century workforce.

FAPAC-DOI’s mission is to support the Department of the Interior (DOI) in addressing issues of interest to the DOI Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) community and to foster professional development and networking. It is a recognized Employee Group that serves as a resource for the AAPI community and a conduit through which the interests, issues and representation of AAPIs in the DOI are addressed.

History
- Established and chartered in July 2017
- Membership reached 150 employees throughout DOI field offices across the United States. Members are composed of both national dues-paying FAPAC regular members and DOI-only associate members, enabling broad participation across bureaus and offices in the Department.
- Meetings are held quarterly, and newsletter is issued monthly to communicate Chapter updates.

Highlights
- Regular participation in federal interagency AAPI networking events
- Created membership survey to help gauge interest and formulate Chapter program activities for the year
- Developed medium-term strategic plan to increase recruitment; increase retention and engagement; maintain AAPI leadership, ERG, and community outreach; and celebrate AAPI Heritage Month
- Coordinated member participation in an important workforce barrier analysis to address recommendations from the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) regarding barriers to AAPI employment

FAPAC Officers, Chapter Representatives, and Committee Chairs at Quarterly meeting.
FAPAC has grown in the last few years to become a premier organization representing the interest of all Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (AAPI) in the federal and District of Columbia governments. There are over 700 members and more than 200 lifetime members throughout the country. FAPAC is represented at every level of government, from entry level to senior executives, and includes all branches of the military. Although well represented with many of the over 30 countries designated as AAPI under the Census Bureau, FAPAC still faces the challenge of getting significant membership from some of these countries, especially from the Pacific Islanders. To become a member, visit www.fapac.org/membership.

In addition to regular members, FAPAC also has Honorary Members who are nominated by the President with the approval of the Board of Directors. Honorary Members are community leaders who are recognized for their service to the AAPI community and also are strong active advocates of the FAPAC brand and mission. Honorary Members are:

- Representative Cindy Ryu - first Korean woman elected to the Washington legislature
- Conrad Lee - first Asian Mayor of Bellevue, WA
- Senator Susan Lee - first Chinese American State Senator for Maryland after several terms in the Maryland House of Delegates
- Delegate Mark Keam - Korean American representative in the House of Delegates in Virginia

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE

FEDERAL ASIAN PACIFIC
AMERICAN COUNCIL

34th ANNUAL NATIONAL LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM

MAY 13-16, 2019

Elaine L. Chao
Greetings:

On behalf of the State of Alabama, I would like to welcome you to the Federal Asian Pacific American Council 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program held on May 13 - 16, 2019 at the Von Braun Center in Huntsville.

The National Leadership Training Program is organized in celebration of Asian American & Pacific Islander Heritage Month and is the largest training event of its kind. The State of Alabama is proud to host this exciting event and to welcome you with true Southern hospitality. During your stay, I hope you will take advantage of the many family oriented and fun-filled activities that the City of Huntsville has to offer.

Upon completion of the program, many of you will return to your homes. I wish you a safe and pleasant journey and hope you will come back to Alabama often.

Again, welcome to the Federal Asian Pacific American Council 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program and best wishes for a memorable event.

Sincerely,

Kay Ivey
Governor

KI/pb/dr
As Mayor, and on behalf of the citizens of Huntsville, it is an honor and pleasure to welcome you to the 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program (NLTP), May 13 – 16, 2019.

A special acknowledgement is given to the Federal Asian Pacific American Council (FAPAC) for coordinating this event. Many hours were spent preparing and planning to make this a great success and our City benefits from those efforts.

While you are here, I hope you have an opportunity to enjoy the many sights and attractions Huntsville has to offer – among them are the U.S. Space and Rocket Center, the Huntsville Museum of Art, Early Works, and several other venues of interest. I would also like to invite you to visit Parkway Place Mall and the Bridge Street Town Centre to explore some of our best shopping and dining options.

For those of you who have traveled long distances, I hope your visit is a pleasant one. Enjoy yourselves while you are here and know you are always welcome in Huntsville!

Sincerely,

Tommy Battle
Mayor

GREETING LETTERS

MADISON COUNTY COMMISSION
Huntsville, AL

CHAIRMAN DALE W. STRONG

FEDERAL ASIAN PACIFIC AMERICAN COUNCIL
34TH NATIONAL LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM

Dear Attendees,

On behalf of the Madison County Commission, I am pleased to welcome you to Madison County, Alabama. We thank you for choosing to visit our community and participating in the 33rd National Leadership Training Program in Huntsville, Alabama May 13-17, 2019.

Madison County is my home and I take great pride in sharing it with you during your stay. I believe you will find a vibrant community that has grown from a small farming town into a high-tech center developing tomorrow’s technology today. Madison County is building rockets that will take us to the moon and beyond, and developing cutting-edge biotechnology already changing the way we treat illness and disease. But at the heart of a growing Madison County you will find we embrace our rich and diverse history while providing our warm and inviting small town hospitality.

I hope you have a chance to look around Madison County during your stay. In addition to our excellent meeting facilities we have a variety of hotel, dining, and shopping destinations to meet any taste. We take great pride in our museums, historical attractions, and countless parks and recreation facilities waiting for your visit.

Thank you again for choosing to stay with us in Madison County. Whether you are here for a day, a week or a lifetime you will find a welcoming community committed to making your stay an enjoyable one.

Sincerely,

Dale W. Strong
Chairman
Madison County Commission
United States Senate

Federal Asian Pacific American Council

Greetings Friends,

I am honored to welcome you to the Federal Asian Pacific American Council’s 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program. This year’s Program is a testament to FAPAC’s mission and drive for success within the Asian Pacific American community and throughout the federal workforce.

Since 1985, FAPAC has worked to ensure that federal Asian Pacific American workers are supported and represented. I applaud your efforts to promote cultural diversity and equal opportunity within the federal government. Your work to encourage career and workplace skill development is a reflection of your commitment to teaching the next generation of leaders. I am proud to know that with this program, the FAPAC is fostering valuable leadership skills for countless APA federal employees.

I would also like to recognize the award recipients in attendance this weekend. Congratulations to this year’s Civilian Award, Uniformed Service Award and Distinguished Public Service Scholarship Award winners on your remarkable achievement. These awards demonstrate your contributions to APA communities throughout our Nation and your dedication to serving others.

Again, congratulations on this occasion. I wish the Federal Asian Pacific American Council and all in attendance much success in the future.

Sincerely,

Tammy Duckworth
United States Senator

Washington, D.C. 20026-3184

Dear Friends,

It is with great enthusiasm that I welcome you to the Federal Asian Pacific American Council’s 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program.

Since its founding in 1985, the Federal Asian Pacific American Council (FAPAC) has played an important role in supporting Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) government employees and promoting diversity throughout the Federal and District of Columbia governments, particularly at senior management levels. The Annual National Leadership Training Program brings together hundreds of AAPIs to engage and learn from each other through workshops on career advancement, effective communication, leadership, and more. This training program is critical in continuing to build a pipeline for AAPIs to excel in public service.

In observance of Asian Pacific American Heritage Month, I invite you to reflect on this year’s theme of “Unite Our Mission by Engaging Each Other.” Our government works best when it reflects and nurtures the diverse communities that it exists to serve. The theme this year represents the commitment we share in strengthening leadership and engagement in advancing the AAPI community throughout our nation. I commend FAPAC for their incredible work in advocating for the AAPI community in the United States.

On behalf of the United States House of Representatives and the people of the 27th Congressional District, I offer my best wishes for success to the Federal Asian Pacific American Council and the attendees of the 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program.

Sincerely,

Judy Chu

The Federal Asian Pacific American Council (FAPAC)

Dear Friends,

It brings me great pleasure to congratulate the Federal Asian Pacific American Council on its National Leadership Training Program held this year in Huntsville, Alabama. This annual conference, which provides invaluable training in leadership and management skills, plays an important role in increasing the diversity of our federal workforce and strengthening the engagement of our government’s most valuable asset—its people—to improve the lives of all Americans.

For over 34 years, FAPAC has been committed to developing and advancing the careers of civilian government and military employees of Asian and Pacific Islander descent. Your work to promote equal opportunity and cultural diversity provides invaluable support to the Asian Pacific Americans who serve our country and helps ensure that our government workforce reflects the rich diversity of our citizenry.

Thank you for all that you do, and please accept my best wishes for a terrific conference.

Warm Regards,

Raja Krishnamoorthi
Member of Congress
Dear Friends,

Please accept my warmest wishes as you gather for the Federal Asian Pacific American Council’s (FAPAC) 34th Annual National Leadership Training Program (NLTP), which is the largest training event of its kind and occurs each May in celebration of Asian American Pacific Islander Heritage Month.

I am delighted to join FAPAC in recognizing the winners of FAPAC’s Uniformed Services Awards and Civilian Awards. These individuals were nominated by their peers or supervisors for their significant contributions to the AAPI community. I would also like to recognize this year’s Public Service Scholarship recipient, who has demonstrated academic excellence, dedication to community service, and an interest in a public service career.

FAPAC should be commended for its outstanding efforts to promote equal opportunity and cultural diversity for Asian Pacific Americans within the federal and District of Columbia governments. I hope this year’s participants enjoy learning from the experiences of senior government officials and workshops on career advancement, leadership, effective communication, diversity, and inclusion.

Best wishes for a wonderful event.

Sincerely,

Ted W. Lieu

Member of Congress
Ms. Olivia F. Adrian
President
Federal Asian Pacific American Council
P.O. Box 23184
Washington, D.C. 20026-3184

Dear Olivia,

I am happy to once again join you in extending a warm welcome to everyone attending this year’s National Leadership Training Program. It is always a pleasure and an honor to be invited to express my support for FAPAC each year. FAPAC has hosted this amazing event for over 30 years, and I hope they will continue to do so for years to come.

FAPAC’s work continues to strengthen and encourage so many of us, highlight our shared priorities, and bring together Asian and Pacific Islander government employees and service members from across the nation and here in Washington, D.C. I want to commend you on the work that you and your organization are doing on behalf of our people.

Congratulations on 34 successful Leadership Training Programs. The event continues to be a wonderful opportunity to network, share the best in ideas and practices, build leadership skills, and focus on what really works in these careers of public service. As you know this year’s theme is, “Unite Our Mission by Engaging Each Other,” and I sincerely hope all in attendance will take full advantage of the event and not only enjoy themselves, but also take what they have learned and share with those who could not attend.

Thank you again for all you do, and please know that my office is always open to you, should you have any issues, questions, or simply want to say hello.

Fa’afetai tele lava,

Aumua Amata
Member of Congress
I would like to thank Federal Asian Pacific American Council (FAPAC) for the important work they have done over the last 34 years to empower future Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) leaders and help our public servants grow personally and professionally. FAPAC’s National Leadership Training Program has helped countless students and Veterans to find employment in the federal workforce and is helping to build a growing AAPI presence in our nation’s leadership.

I’m honored to be the first AAPI Member of Congress to serve the state of New Jersey, and the only Korean American to be currently serving in Congress. The AAPI community is the fastest growing demographic group in the United States, and we should be sure that our government and federal workforce reflects that. FAPAC’s work in helping AAPI students and Veterans to develop strong leadership and communication skills will prepare them to serve our country well and represent the AAPI community for generations to come.

I think it is relevant that FAPAC’s 2019 AAPI Heritage Month theme is to “Unite Our Mission by Engaging Each Other,” to encourage Americans to engage each other in civil discourse about how we can make our country better. We are at an important point in America’s recent history, with our politics being led by partisan rhetoric and an inability to collaborate across ideological lines. During my time working in national security, we would check our politics at the door and work for our country, not any political party. Now more than ever it is important that we engage with each other civilly, work together, and find concrete solutions to the day’s most pressing issues. Organizations like FAPAC will play an important role in ensuring that future decision makers are diverse in ethnicity and in ideology, with the underlying ideal that our best work is done when we work together.

I appreciate all the work that FAPAC has done to help grow our country’s future leaders and I wish them continued success.

Sincerely,

Andy Kim
Member of Congress
The FAPAC Distinguished Public Service Scholarship Endowment Fund, Inc. is a non-profit organization that promotes the recognition of Asian Pacific American students who are interested in public service and has made contributions to foster diversity and inclusion in the Asian Pacific American community. For more information or to donate to the Scholarship Fund, visit www.fapac.org/scholarship.

The awardee will receive a stipend of $5,000 towards their education. The award is given out, on a rotational basis, to honor three distinguished Asian Pacific American pioneers and role models whose dedication and efforts in public service have opened the doors for many others.

- The late Congressman Dalip Singh Saund, the first Asian Pacific American elected to Congress.
- Former Secretary Norman Y. Mineta, the first Asian Pacific American to serve in two Cabinet positions as Secretary of Commerce and Secretary of Transportation.
- Secretary Elaine L. Chao, the first Asian Pacific American woman to hold a Cabinet position in American history. On January 31, 2017, she was confirmed to her second cabinet position as the 18th U.S. Secretary of Transportation.

The selection criteria includes the following:

- Demonstrated commitment to public service, including service to the AAPI community
- Demonstrated leadership and potential for continued growth in leadership skills
- Academic achievement

CONGRESSMAN DALIP SINGH SAUND

Congressman Dalip Singh Saund, an Indian American, was the first Asian American, and one of non-Abrahamic faith, to be elected to Congress, serving from 1957 to 1963. He immigrated to the United States to study agriculture, but he obtained a Masters degree and a Ph.D. in mathematics from the University of California, Berkeley. The immigration law at this time did not permit people from India and other countries of Asia to become naturalized citizens. He worked tirelessly to get the law changed and when the Luce-Celler Act passed in 1946, he applied to become an American citizen in 1949. He was elected as Justice of the Peace for Westmoreland Township and was elected to Congress, serving from 1957 to 1963. He died in 1973.

The Federal Asian Pacific American Council is proud to award Nancy Lou Trang the 2019 Distinguished Public Service Scholarship in honor of Congressman Dalip Singh Saund.

Nancy Lou Trang is a second-year dental student attending Howard University College of Dentistry. As a preprofessional B.S./D.D.S. student, she completed undergraduate studies, with a major in biology and a minor in chemistry within two years while maintaining a 4.0 GPA. She is President of the Student Research Group, Vice President of the Asian Dental Student Association, Committee Leader of the Student National Dental Association Oral Cancer Walk, and contributing author to the American Student Dental Association dental magazine Contour. She is also a member of the American Dental Association and Special Care Dental Student Association. During her undergraduate studies, she was a member of the Pre-Dental Society, the Swipe Out Hunger Outreach Team, and also served as the Committee Coordinator for the College of Arts and Science Community Outreach Team. As a first generation American and the third eldest daughter out of five, Nancy Lou is passionate about contributing to her Asian heritage. As a future dentist, she aspires to provide excellent and informed care to everyone in her community through scientific innovation and clinical dentistry. As a citizen, she is very passionate about contributing to a better future for everyone. Consequently, she is eager to graduate from dental school to become a well-informed public servant and community centered dentist.

Creating a More Vibrant America.

APIASF is proud to support FAPAC in creating opportunities for the Asian & Pacific Islander American leaders of tomorrow.

“There is no room for second class citizenship,” said Congressman Dalip Singh Saund; by this he means that everyone, immigrant or not, should have the same rights and opportunities. To promote diversity and inclusion in Asian American Pacific Islanders (AAPI) communities, Congressman Saund used his dedication and perseverance to change the law to allow Indians to become United States citizens. This is just one of his many contributions to the AAPI community which inspires me to engage in the promotion of diversity and inclusion in the AAPI community. As a leader and a future dentist, I have engaged in many activities in my community which have and will continue to promote AAPI diversity and inclusion.

As a public servant to my community, I am involved in many extracurricular activities. One of which is being an active member of the Asian Dental Student Association (ADSA) at Howard University College of Dentistry, I serve as event coordinator for the first annual Asian Heritage Show, scheduled for April 4, 2019. This event is designed to bring the Asian student body within Howard University together to share the various aspects of Asian culture. This is especially important because the university has a strong and proud Asian minority population, even though it is a historically black university. By sharing cuisine, cultural performances, and traditional clothing from various Asian cultures including Vietnamese, Chinese, Korean, Pilipino, Cambodian, Pakastani, Nepali, and Indian, I hope to create an open dialogue about culture and diversity on campus. To promote collaboration among my peers, I invited students from the university’s Chinese Club, Asian Culture Club, and Nepali Student Association to perform and attend. I also invited ten Asian country embassies in Washington D.C. to sponsor and participate in the event. Additionally, all attendees are encouraged to wear their traditional attire regardless of their heritage. It been truly rewarding seeing the progress we have made from transforming this idea of sharing Asian culture into a concrete event. As an Asian American, this event is very important to me, as it will allow the community to learn more about and better appreciate the richness and diversity of Asian culture and customs. This understanding and appreciation is the first step to fostering inclusion and diversity in AAPI communities. Furthermore, as the newly elected vice president of the ADSA, I look forward to improving the organization and leading the Asian student body to contributing more to the community.

I am also active in the AAPI community outside of Howard University. Most recently, I volunteered with the Vietnamese Medical Society of Northeast America at the Chợ Tết Cộng Đồng and at the Hope for Tomorrow Free Dental Clinic to provide free dental screenings and consultation in Vietnamese to those in need. The Saigon Broadcasting Television Network interviewed us as an exemplar of how the Asian youth can be involved in the community.

Through these active leadership roles and volunteer experiences, I hope to create change and foster diversity and inclusion within the AAPI communities. Similar to Congressman Saund, I aspire to break barriers and dedicate my time to public service and inclusion. This scholarship is important because it will help pay my expensive dental school tuition, allow me to go on dental mission trips in Asian countries, and serve as a dentist in the AAPI community. Furthermore, the scholarship will give me the finances to develop initiatives that will promote inclusivity and diversity and engage in political lobbying on behalf of AAPI legislation. As Congressman Saund once said, “In the good American tradition I decided not to moan or complain, but to take intelligent action.” Likewise, as a first generation in my family born on American soil and the only future dentist in my family, I aspire to take intelligent action to create the changes that I want to see in America.

Huntsville, Alabama
Representative Judy Chu, House of Representatives (CA-27)

Judy Chu was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in July 2009. She represents the 27th Congressional District, which includes Pasadena and the west San Gabriel Valley of southern California.

Rep. Chu currently serves on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, which has jurisdiction over legislation pertaining to taxes, revenues, Social Security, and Medicare. In that Committee, Rep. Chu is a member of the Subcommittees on Health and Human Resources, giving her oversight over healthcare reform and crucial safety net programs.

In 2009, she became the first Chinese American woman elected to Congress in history.

Mayor Thomas “Tommy” Battle, City of Huntsville

Now in his third term, Mayor Tommy Battle is dedicated to creating jobs and diversifying Huntsville’s economic base. Through his leadership, the Mayor has assembled a coalition of regional leaders committed to recruiting industry, workforce development and high quality education. As a result, Huntsville leads the state in new jobs and economic investment.

The Mayor’s goal is to make the best possible use of Huntsville’s collective brainpower to ensure that the City becomes a global leader in innovation, research and development. GEO, Cyber, Energy and Biotech initiatives work to unite the City’s rich intellectual capital with new opportunities.

A champion of teamwork, Battle strives to work collaboratively with leadership and citizens. Through the Mayor’s fiscally conservative leadership, the City has maintained a balanced budget and earned triple-A credit ratings from two leading rating agencies every year since 2009.

Born in Birmingham in 1955, Mayor Battle moved to Huntsville in 1980 after receiving a business degree from The University of Alabama. Four years later, he was elected to the Huntsville City Council, where he served as Finance Chair. His successful career as an entrepreneur and businessman, along with nearly 30 years of community service, effectively prepared him for the demanding role as the City’s chief executive officer, recruiter, and champion of Huntsville’s future.

Stephen Shih
Associate Administrator, Diversity and Equal Opportunity NASA

Steve Shih serves as NASA’s Associate Administrator for Diversity and Equal Opportunity. In this position, he is the principal advisor to the NASA Administrator on all matters relating to Diversity and Inclusion and Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO), as well as Equal Opportunity in external science, technology, engineering and math programs receiving federal assistance from NASA. Shih provides executive direction and oversight over all NASA policies, programs, and initiatives in those areas, including strategic planning, execution, and evaluation; workforce and program data and analysis; anti-harassment; reasonable accommodation; EEO complaints; conflict resolution; and training.

From October 2010 through October 2017, Shih was deputy associate director for senior executive services and performance management at the U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM). In this capacity, he led OPM’s organization responsible for human capital management policy for the Senior Executive Service and other senior professionals.

Prior to his appointment at OPM, Shih was employed at the U.S. Department of Homeland Security from August 2008 to October 2010, where he served in the position of deputy civil rights and civil liberties officer for EEO and diversity programs, and also served in an acting capacity as the assistant secretary-level officer for civil rights and civil liberties.

Shih received a Bachelor of Science degree in social psychology from Duke University and a Juris Doctor degree from the Washington University School of Law. He is a member of the bar associations for both Virginia and the District of Columbia.

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER RVEN T. GARCIA  U.S. COAST GUARD
Lieutenant Commander Garcia is cited for outstanding achievement as a leader in furthering diversity and inclusion while serving in the USCG from January 2018 to December 2018. Having been elected as the Northern California FAPAC chapter Vice President, LCDR Garcia instituted a successful program to renewed focus on chapter and membership growth. Demonstrating exceptional insight in building partnerships with the FAPAC national chapter, USCG Affinity Group Council (AGC), and APAICS, he provided 50 active duty, reserve, and civilian members exceptional access to professional development conferences. Superbly advocating the shared opinions of AAPIs in monthly AGC meetings, he improved diversity and inclusion strategies. As the program coordinator for the 2018 AAPI May heritage celebration, he solicited superior talent to showcase riveting cultural performances with only a $1000 budget. The event attracted over 500 active duty members, federal employees and representatives of the Mayor of Alameda, CA.

PETTY OFFICER LAWREN K. KANAE  U.S. COAST GUARD
Petty Officer Kanae is cited for superior performance from January 2018 to December 2018 as an outstanding Coast Guard representative in promoting diversity and inclusion. While assigned to Enlisted Personnel Management, Coast Guard Personnel Service Center (PSC), in Washington, DC, her diligence and commitment aided in countless rigorous and informed decisions regarding career advancements for over 32,000 enlisted active duty members. Beyond her primary duties in PSC, she actively served in numerous high level and visible leadership roles on multiple committees at Coast Guard Headquarters and has mentored over 50 personnel. Demonstrating superior leadership as the Executive Secretary of the FAPAC, Coast Guard Chapter, she coordinated meetings and led the Program & Planning and the Membership Committees. Moreover, she filled the role of both President and Vice President during their absences and led several FAPAC fundraising events generating over $900 in profits toward the chapter’s multiple activities.

LIEUTENANT COLONEL RANDY I. LAU  U.S. ARMY NATIONAL GUARD
LTC Lau has distinguished himself with exceptionally meritorious service as the Director of the Nevada National Guard State Partnership Program by working tirelessly in support of USINDOPACOM's Country Objectives within the Oceania region of the South Pacific. LTC Lau developed well-defined and sustainable lines of effort to improve disaster response and recovery efforts to benefit the citizens of the entire region as a result of his presence during Cyclone Gita in the Kingdom of Tonga. He played a decisive role in the establishment of the first workshop in the Kingdom of Tonga to support their development of a National Action Plan in support of USINDOPACOM's Women, Peace and Security Objective. LTC Lau was also instrumental due to his astute politico-military judgement and adroit diplomatic skills to create opportunities that promote a free and open Indo-Pacific region that provides the opportunity for prosperity and security for all within the USINDOPACOM Area of Responsibility.

COMMANDER THOMAS TOSHIKAZU MCANDREW  U.S. NAVY RESERVE
McAndrew displayed exceptional character that distinguished him as an outstanding leader, role model and mentor in the Asian American community. As a senior leader, he drove diversity and inclusion initiatives resulting in one of the most diverse cybersecurity companies in the world with 37% of employees identifying as minorities. As a volunteer Board member, he also drives diversity and inclusion to one of the largest colleges in the Seattle area, serving more than, 5,000 students including more than 1,000 that identify as Asian or Pacific Islander. Commander McAndrew’s exceptional professionalism, personal initiative, and loyal devotion to duty reflected great credit upon him and the United States Naval Service.
MAJOR DANA A. GRIGG
U.S. AIR NATIONAL GUARD

Major Grigg has distinguished herself with exceptional meritorious service by making extraordinary contributions as the subject matter expert for USINDOPACOM’s Women, Peace and Security Country Objective. Major Grigg’s extraordinary contributions to the Women, Peace and Security endeavor enhanced understanding, improved cooperation, and strengthened relations between USINDOPACOM, the Kingdom of Tonga, and the Nevada National Guard. Her excellent leadership skills, a steadfast work ethic, along with a precise legal acumen carried the day for the first ever Kingdom of Tonga’s Women, Peace and Security National Action Plan Workshop. Major Grigg was extremely active in directing efforts of multiple United States Government Agencies and Kingdom of Tonga’s Ministries to bridge the gaps between the Kingdom of Tonga’s military and civilian population with respect to Women, Peace and Security, as well as promoting security cooperation goals in disaster response and maritime security.

TECHNICAL SERGEANT RACHELLE K. ESTRADA

CAPTAIN PAUL JUNG
U.S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE COMMISSIONED CORPS

CAPT Jung has fostered an innovative and harmonious environment between the Uniformed Services and Asian American and Pacific Islander communities. CAPT Jung has been active in the Asian Pacific American (APA) community for many years. CAPT Jung helped to start the nation’s only independent medical student organization dedicated to APA medical students and APA health: the Asian Pacific American Medical Student Association (APAMS). After helping launch APAMS in the ‘90s, he served as an inaugural member of the APAMS Physician Advisory Board. His current assignment at the Indian Health Service is rooted in his belief in its mission to “improve the physical, mental, social, and spiritual health of American Indians and Alaska Natives to the highest level.” CAPT Jung assisted in overcoming discrimination and eliminating barriers that hinder equal opportunity for all members of the Uniformed Services, including the civilian workforce. CAPT Jung was the first uniformed Chief of Staff at the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, and first uniformed Associate Director of the Peace Corps. He sets the standard by his own personal example, being a role model for other officers.

Jody Singer is the director of NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Alabama. Appointed in September 2018, Singer manages one of NASA’s largest field installations, with nearly 6,000 on- and near-site civil service and contractor employees and an annual budget of approximately $2.8 billion. Prior to being named to the position, Singer had served as Marshall acting director since July 2018 and was deputy director from February 2016 to July 2018, assisting the director with the daily management of the center’s workforce and operations.

During her 32-year NASA career, Singer has held leadership roles of increasing responsibility in human spaceflight, technology and science flight missions programs and projects and was appointed in 2002 to the Senior Executive Service, the personnel system covering top managerial positions in federal agencies.

She has been recognized with numerous awards, including NASA Outstanding Leadership Medals and two Presidential Rank of Meritorious Executive Awards, the highest honor for career federal employees. She received the Space Flight Awareness Leadership Award in 2005 for inspiring the Shuttle Propulsion Office to strive for excellence and continuous improvement; and the NASA Exceptional Service Medal in 1993 while managing the External Tank project’s business office. For her dedication and commitment to excellence and achievement in support of the human space program, she was awarded the Silver Snoopy Award by the NASA astronaut corps, and was named a Space Flight Awareness Launch Honoree.

Courtney L. Wilkerson serves as the Federal Aviation Administration’s (FAA) Assistant Administrator for Civil Rights (Acting). He is an expert in civil rights, equal employment opportunities, diversity and inclusion, and work life balance. He assists the agency in creating and ensuring a healthy workplace environment that supports and encourages contributions from a multi-faceted employee base, and utilizes many avenues to eradicate discrimination both for FAA’s employees and customers. His entire career is dedicated to ensuring accessibility, opportunity, and advancement for everyone.

Prior to joining FAA, Mr. Wilkerson served as the Civil Rights Director and advisor to the Under Secretary for Rural Development, a multi-billion dollar Agency within the U.S. Department of Agriculture. He was also the Chief Adjudicator within the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights. In his professional mission to mitigate fraud and abuse within the Food Stamp Program, he was the Chief Administrative Review Officer with responsibilities to conduct administrative hearings and appeals for a $70 billion annual program.

Mr. Wilkerson holds a Juris Doctorate from Howard University School of Law and a Bachelor’s degree in Criminal Justice from Florida A&M University.
Sunny Lee Fanning, FAA

Outstanding Individual Leadership (SES)

Sunny Lee Fanning leads by example and embraces the challenge of improving diversity and inclusion in the workplace. Striving to include an array of nationalities, her office has seen a 10 percent increase in the recruitment and hiring of staff with Asian Pacific heritage. Sunny looks to effect cultural change at all levels of the organization, not just in senior management, to ensure that diversity and inclusion initiatives are self-sustaining, long-lasting, and grow organically. Sunny has been honored for her diversity and inclusion efforts with the Keller-Sullivan Award from the National Coalition of Federal Aviation Employees with Disabilities and the FAA Administrator’s Golden Compass Award for Exemplary Leadership.

Chi Tony Pham, NAVY

Outstanding Individual Leadership (GS 13-15)

Serving as the AAPI Affinity Group Team Lead, Tony was charged with: leading and mentoring the AAPI Advisory Sub-Teams and working on the Naval Air Warfare Center Training Systems Division (NAWCTSD) Diversity Council to ensure barriers to inclusion and diversity identified in the MD-715 study were overcome, leading to a stronger workforce capable of achieving command mission success. He collected and analyzed data in order to examine policies, conditions, and procedures that lead to potential barriers. He conducted several multicultural events throughout the year, enabling AAPI cultures to be expressed, explored, and enjoyed by all employees. His outreach to welcome new employees was the newest improvement in the command’s effort to reach and retain talent.

Rachel Kizito-Ramos, FAA

Outstanding Individual Leadership (GS 1-12)

Rachel Kizito-Ramos is an Equal Employment Opportunity Specialist with the Department of Transportation’s Maritime Administration, where she investigates complex allegations of discrimination, interprets relevant Civil Rights regulations, policies, and metrics, and collaborates with agency cross-functional teams on best practices in diversity, inclusion, counseling-mediation, recruitment, and retention strategies. Previously, she was the acting Equal Employment Opportunity Program Manager for the United States Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, New York, in 2016 and 2017.

Victoria Y. Wei, FAA

Excellence in Individual Achievement (SES)

Victoria Wei is fiercely committed as an SES to promote diversity and inclusion and help advance AAPI employees in the Federal government. She renewed focus on the FAA’s eight employee associations, including the National Asian & Pacific American Association, by launching an initiative in the Air Traffic Organization to strengthen visibility of employee associations and access to their training. Victoria also chairs the Federal Women’s Workgroup of the FAA’s EEO Action Committee, a cross-agency committee chartered to identify and implement strategies for ensuring agency compliance with the requirements of the EEO’s directives for maintaining an FAA Model EEO Program.
Kim W. Yee, NAVY

Excellence in Individual Achievement (GS 13-15)

Kim W. Yee has worked tirelessly to support his organization’s Equal Employment Opportunity and diversity goals. He is a member of the Equal Employment Opportunity Advisory Council (EEOC) and advisor for the Naval Asian Society Employee Resource Group at NSWCPD. Mr. Yee received numerous awards for his actions including the NAVSSES Department 90 Command Award for Diversity.

Aryn Lockhart, USAF

Excellence in Individual Achievement (GS 1-12)

Aryn Lockhart is the Chief of Community Relations and a Visual Information Specialist assigned to the 17th Training Wing Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas since 2016. She also serves as the Deputy Chief of public affairs overseeing a 17-person wing agency. Aryn manages all aspects of the Wing’s Public Affairs program, including the base public web site, social media, photojournalism, broadcasting and graphics supporting approximately 5,000 joint military, civilian, contract personnel and an annual student population of 14,000. She provides trusted counsel to the Wing Commander and base leaders ensuring morale and readiness is built, maintained and strengthened with effective and efficient two-way communication tools. A civilian employee for 23 years, she began her career in the Washington, DC area working for the Defense Logistics Agency.

Johnny F. Stephenson, NASA

Diversity Excellence (SES)

Johnny F. Stephenson is known among his peers, employees, and community as an inclusive leader who believes trust and respect are paramount. He has been commended by his peers at MSFC for giving every person at the table a voice. He provides formal and informal mentoring to a number of employees, including Asian American Pacific Islander (AAPI) personnel, and “stretch” assignments to employees as a way to ensure every employee under his supervision has developmental opportunities. He has contributed significantly to the AAPI community through effective collaboration against multiple odds, specifically in regards to the development of our local FAPAC chapter, FAPAC STAR (Southern Tennessee and North Alabama Region).

Thomas J. Liu, DOI

B3. Strategies for Achieving Career Success in the Federal Government

Federal Government employees must understand that just being a “hard working employee” will not help them reach their leadership aspirations. As of 2017, the Federal Government was composed of over 2 million employees; with at least 50% of those employees likely being considered “hard working.” Thus, the reality is that being a hard working employee does not make you special, it makes you average. In this workshop, Alex will outline two of the seven strategies success seeking federal employees can use to prepare themselves to successfully assume high level leadership positions. These strategies are strategically focused on engaging other within our communities to reach our collective goals.

Alex Tremble, Founder and Federal Career Coach, GPS Leadership Solutions, LLC

Alex D. Tremble Jr. (aka The Federal Career Coach) is a Career and Leadership Development Coach and the Founder of GPS Leadership Solutions, LLC. C1. Homeland Security

Major General R. Mark Toy will share his expertise and lessons learned from his experience in the field of homeland security.

Major General R. Mark Toy, Commanding General, Great Lakes and Ohio River Division, United States Army Corps of Engineers

Major General Mark Toy assumed command of the Great Lakes and Ohio River Division (LRD), headquartered in Cincinnati, Ohio on August 31, 2016. The Division is one of nine USACE regional commands with seven engineer districts totaling over 4,000 people operating in a seventeen state area and is charged with directing federal water resource development in the Great Lakes and Ohio River basins with infrastructure valued at over $80 billion. With an annual operating and construction budget exceeding $2 billion, missions include planning, construction and operations of navigation structures and flood damage reduction, hydropower, environmental restoration, water conservation, recreation and disaster assistance. The division also executes military construction in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan with design and construction of barracks, hospitals, airfields and family housing on military installations.

While assigned to LRD, Maj. Gen. Toy deployed to Kabul, Afghanistan in support of Operation Resolute Support. He served as the Director for the Enhanced Security Zone (ESZ) leading a task force composed of personnel from USACE and the Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization (JIDO).

From August 2013 to June 2014, Maj. Gen. Toy served as the Chief of Staff for USACE. He was the key integrator for focusing the efforts of the HQ staff, nine Major Subordinate Commands/Divisions, 43 Engineer Districts, and two Centers and Laboratories to best accomplish the Commander’s Intent. He was the principal advisor to the Commanding General and the Deputy Commanding General.

Maj. Gen. Toy graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1987 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Operations Research. He holds a Master of Business Administration degree from Boston University (1991), a Master of Science Degree in Environmental Engineering from the University of California at Los Angeles (1996), and a Master of Science Degree in National Resource Strategy from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces (2010). He is a Registered Professional Engineer in the states of Arizona and Virginia.

C2. Promoting Diversity and Inclusion in the Federal Workforce

More than ever, a workplace is a diverse collection of individuals proud of who they are, including all the components that make an individual unique. In order for your workplace to succeed, your employees must be able to appreciate and celebrate those differences. During this session we will define diversity and inclusion, identify biases toward those with diverse background, and identify practices supporting a diverse and inclusive workforce.

CONGRATULATIONS TO FAPAC FOR THEIR 34TH ANNIVERSARY!

Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (AAPIs) are now the fastest growing racial group in the United States, increasing over four times as rapidly as the total U.S. population and expected to double from 20 million to more than 51 million by 2060. Recognizing this tremendous growth and the unique needs within AAPI communities, President Donald Trump issued Executive Order 13811 to reestablish the President’s Advisory Commission on AAPIs. The Commission works in close collaboration with the White House Initiative on Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders to advise the president on issues facing the AAPI community.

The Initiative also works to improve the quality of life for AAPIs by facilitating access to and participation in federal programs in which many AAPIs remain under-served. The Initiative focuses on several issues that are important to the AAPI community, including economic growth, education, health, and housing.

Through its innovative approaches ranging from interagency collaboration to on-the-ground community outreach, the Initiative seeks to highlight both the tremendous unmet needs in the AAPI community as well as the dynamic community assets that can be leveraged to meet many of those needs. The Initiative works to improve the quality of life for Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders across the nation through increased access to and participation in federal programs. Learn more about our mission.

As The Voice For The Voiceless...

MISSION
The National Diversity Coalition (NDC) mission is to empower and influence our nation’s minority communities at every level of government and within the business community.

FUNCTION
We advocate before governmental bodies, including the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC), the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), the Federal Transportation Commission (FTC), Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) and all of the federal financial regulators, such as Treasury, Federal Reserve, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFI) and Security and Exchange Commission (SEC).

LEADERSHIP
NDC’s leadership consist of our nation’s various faith & community-based organizations including African-American, Asian and Latino evangelical churches, leaders from major minority business such as the Los Angeles Latino Chamber of Commerce, as well as a diverse group of minority-led regional and national nonprofits.

PARTNERSHIP
NDC’s member organizations are representative of a significant constituency, strongly advocating for the underserved. However, we cannot achieve substantial social impact without corporate partners. These strategic partnerships with public and private sectors have resulted in policy changes and/or increased financial support directed at community programming. These programs support a vast array of areas such as homeownership, financial literacy education for youth and adults, digital and broadband literacy, and affordable housing and healthcare to name a few.
In addition, they provide access to resources that increase quality of life and improve supplier diversity programs, the importance of arts education in creating thriving communities and economies, $13 education, and several other areas that address various social determinants key to equitable treatment for all individuals, regardless of socio-economic status.

FEARLESS CONNECTS COMMUNITIES.

Proudly supporting the Federal Asian Pacific American Council (FAPAC) and their 34th National Leadership Training Program.

Providing federal employees with more healthy benefits, smart online tools and incentives than any other provider since 1960.
We provide leadership on food, agriculture, natural resources, rural development, nutrition, and related issues based on public policy, the best available science, and effective management.

We have a vision to provide economic opportunity through innovation, helping rural America to thrive; to promote agriculture production that better nourishes Americans while also helping feed others throughout the world; and to preserve our Nation’s natural resources through conservation, restored forests, improved watersheds, and healthy private working lands.

USDA is an equal opportunity provider, employer, and lender.
